In Re: New York City Policing During Summer 2020 Demonstrations,

20-cv-8924 (CM)(GWG) – This filing is related to Hernandez, 21-cv-7406 and Minett, 21-cv-8161

Dear Judge McMahon:

My firm and co-counsel represent the Plaintiffs in Hernandez, et al. v. City of New York, et al., and Minett v. City of New York, et al., which were consolidated into the In Re: New York City Policing During Summer 2020 Demonstrations, 20-cv-8924 (CM)(GWG) docket for discovery purposes. Both Hernandez and Minett resolved on a Rule 68 offer, each of which also provided for attorneys' fees.

The parties jointly ask for a further 45-day extension of time for plaintiffs in both Hernandez et al. and Minett to move for fees, so they may have more time to attempt to resolve the appropriate amount without litigation. Previously the Court set a deadline for plaintiffs to serve a demand by October 18, 2022, which they did. See Hernandez, Dkt. No. 36. The parties are now engaged in productive discussions and are hopeful they can resolve this issue without court intervention.

Given that, we ask the Court to grant an extension of the time until January 23, 2022 for Plaintiffs to file the fee applications in both Minett and Hernandez pursuant to the relevant Rule 68 offers.

As always, we thank the Court for its continued time and attention.

Respectfully submitted,

Elena L. Cohen
